

Module 2: Integrity and ethics

Key take-aways

As public servants, our decisions and actions are guided by frameworks and standards, which help us to be consistent in how we engage with the people of Queensland.

Our ethical frameworks and standards of conduct shape the way we work as public servants.

Upholding high standards of integrity through ethical decision-making builds public trust. Using decision-making frameworks helps us to make decisions that are both ethical and consistent.

Embracing a politically neutral mindset underpins how we take action every day as professional public servants. It involves demonstrating personal courage and providing holistic advice that:

- considers the public's interest
- is based on accurate evidence, lived experience and/or professional expertise
- is provided in a manner that upholds our professional standards.
